

2013 Youth Mission Trip News

Back in July, about 15 youth and adults gathered to discuss and make plans for next year's Youth Mission Trip. The overall consensus was to head to Crownpoint, New Mexico as the hands and feet of Christ and work with Next Step Ministries on the Navajo Reservation. As of now, the week of June 16-22 seems to work the best for all interested in going along. It has yet been decided whether the group will be driving or flying. Those interested in being part of the mission team are: Lloyd Allen, Travis Wollenberg, Mitch Sokolski, Lucas Steinbach, Dylan Mueller. Others include college students Ben Wollenberg, Megan Klemp, Amanda and Emily Mueller, Ben Krull and Jacob Korth.

The group also decided to start monthly bible studies to prepare their hearts and minds for the mission at hand. Earlier in the months, 1st or 2nd Sundays worked best, with the time being set at 8 a.m.

For all interested in going, our next Bible study/meeting is October 13 starting at 8 a.m. We will also be filling out commitment contracts at that time.

Fundraising ideas were also discussed at the meeting, with the mention of Pizza Sales, Rent-a-Kid, Letter Writing for support, a Rummage Sale, Brat fry, as well as others.

We will be kicking off October's Bible study with a Pizza Sale running through till October 28th. We will then make Pizzas in two batches on the mornings of November 3rd and 10th; starting at 9 a.m. Anyone interested in selling pizzas to support the Youth Mission Team should contact Mark or Corina Mueller and anyone seeking to place an order, may do so from any of the team members directly or online at ascensionavarino.com on their behalf.

Remember all participation and attendance is highly encouraged and will be recorded and rewarded 😊

Novembers Bible study/meeting is tentatively scheduled for Sunday the 11th at 8 a.m.

Additional information about our mission trip can be found at ascensionavarino.com or nextstepminisries.com.

